Why Study Abroad?

"As a future nurse, I believe it is very important to be culturally competent. Nurses have to be willing to embrace challenges and adapt to diverse situations as well as care for individuals from different walks of life. They encounter many individuals from different backgrounds, cultures, and regions, and it's the nurse's job to provide exceptional care to those patients, regardless of culture or background. I believe studying abroad has helped develop these career skills and enhance the skills I already had."

Nursing Major Specifics:

When is the best time to study abroad?

While every student's situation may vary, Nursing students ideally study abroad during the fall or spring semester of their sophomore year. However, finding the most appropriate program as well as the best time to go may often depend on academic background, interest areas, and pre-requisites. Begin planning your study abroad experience early.

What courses should I take abroad vs. at UNCG?

The School of Nursing is very supportive of students studying abroad and still graduating on time. New changes to the degree structure allow more flexibility for students to study abroad on semester exchange programs. The School of Nursing encourages students to plan very early and carefully, since students admitted to the upper division will be required to take NUR 210 and NUR 220 during the summer session, typically between their sophomore and junior year. During the semester abroad, students are encouraged to focus primarily on their university general education requirements (General Education Core—GEC) and nursing pre-requisites. In addition, students can take the equivalent of the following UNCG course requirements: PSY 121, SOC 101, SOC 202, ATY 100, HDF 211, NTR 213, CST 105, CHE 103 (+110 lab), CHE 104, BIO 111 + lab, BIO 271 + lab, BIO 277 + lab, BIO 280 + lab, STA 108. Students who are working to earn foreign language credit or gain proficiency may also choose to take foreign language classes abroad.

The list of programs on the second page of this brochure indicate the semester long exchange partner schools that offer courses to meet GEC requirements and nursing pre-requisites, many in non-English speaking countries with classes taught in English.

Summer Study Abroad Options

Nursing students can also take part in summer programs offered at our partner schools. Also, over the years, the School of Nursing has developed faculty led programs. These programs vary year to year so be sure to check with the School of Nursing for the most current information.

Other Benefits

Simply studying abroad in any country waives a Global marker, and depending on the program, a Global Non-Western marker. Speak to an IPC adviser for more information.

Do I Need to Speak a Foreign Language?

While studying abroad is an ideal time to complete foreign language requirements or learn a new language, most international programs offer extensive coursework in English available to exchange students.

Can I Afford It?

YES! On semester or year-long exchange programs, students pay regular UNCG tuition and fees. Housing and meal costs are typically equivalent to a semester in residence at UNCG. Any financial aid received at UNCG can be applied to the program costs. In addition, students are eligible to receive travel grants to help offset the costs of airfare. Be sure to review the budget sheet and speak to an IPC advisor.

Will I Graduate on Time?

YES! Students receive UNCG credit for classes taken abroad, so there is no need to prolong graduation — you can still graduate on time!
